ACHIEVE YOUR POTENTIAL

“IT’S A LIFE-CHANGING EXPERIENCE!”

Are you looking for a leadership retreat that will re-orient your thinking about leadership? Are you willing to dig deep inside and release your inner greatness? Are you ready to step forward and be a leadership driver in your area of the organization? Are you convinced, like so many today, that building a cadre of strong, talented, and capable leaders may be the most striking challenge that contemporary organizations face? Then you are ready for the challenge of Building Leaders.

Building Leaders* is a unique 2 1/2 day interactive workshop for emerging leaders.

The Building Leaders workshop is designed to explore the topics and themes that are critical for promising, high-potential leaders. Building Leaders is a focused, respectful, no-holds-barred exchange where emerging leaders will explore and stretch their leadership assumptions, share experiences, expand perspective, and enhance their leader skills. Past participants have affirmed that Building Leaders has a dramatic, positive impact for both them and their respective organizations.

Our underlying commitment in the Building Leaders program is the personal leadership development of each person. Participants will receive personal assessments (including 360-degree feedback), allowing them to explore their leader values and focus on their leadership journey. There will be challenging discussions about practical leader issues. Capabilities such as trust building, character alignment, conflict and change management, and interpersonal, communicative, and emotional skills will be emphasized. Individual coaching sessions are conducted so participants can internalize learning and skills and establish a solid foundation for transferring awareness and insights into action and practice. We promise an active, engaged, and relevant retreat.

Who knows? You might even have some fun!

INSIGHT

THE FACILITATORS

“Dynamic and engaging,” “respectful,” “practical,” “challenging,” and “real” are just a few of the ways that Tom and Chuck have been described. Bringing together solid academic backgrounds with sound applications, Tom and Chuck have worked with the full span of leadership and have been received enthusiastically from the supervisory floor to the executive suite. Tom and Chuck exude a genuine concern and care for each participant that allows them to explore tough leadership issues with point-on exchanges, conducted in an environment of respect and trust.

Tom and Chuck are sought-after speakers and facilitators who are respected for both their exciting and captivating presentation styles and the quality and depth to which their leadership topics are handled. Participants enthusiastically echo the sentiments of a recent participant who commented, “These guys are simply a treasure!”
