

ENG 124-03: American Writers

Instructor: Dr. Debra Burgauer

Objectives: ENG 124 is designed to fulfill the Human Values component of Bradley University's General Education requirements. This course does not complete English major or minor requirements. We will be reading American writers and examining their works in relationship to how they define American values, moral codes, and ethical issues. We will use a historical, aesthetic and cultural framework for our analysis.

Text: Baym, Nina et al., eds. The Norton Anthology of American Literature: Shorter Seventh Edition: Vols 1 and 2. New York: W.W. Norton, 2008.

Requirements: Attendance, LOTS of reading (75-100 pages a week), writing, and discussion

Methods: Response Notes, Discussions, and Three Take-Home Essay Exams
A PORTION OF THE CLASS WILL BE ONLINE VIA A SAKAI COURSE SITE.