

ENG 307-01: Advanced Writing – Creative Writing II

Professor Lee Newton

This Creative Writing II course will focus on POETRY. Students will study many types of poetic forms and learn the terminology associated with the study of poetry. This course is workshop-based. Students are required to attend class, read/workshop their creative writing, and provide constructive criticism/feedback regarding the work of their peers/classmates. It is imperative that students attend class, are willing to present their work in front of their classmates, and contribute consistently to the workshop discussion.

Texts: TBA

Exams: Final Exam

Coursework: portfolio of all creative writing and assignments, written/verbal criticism of peers' poems presented to the workshop

Other: good attendance track record, willingness to speak in class daily, willingness to experiment with poetic forms, ability to attend to Visiting Writers readings on campus.