ENG 381 Literatures of Asia

The program in Asian studies is designed to provide a broad understanding of the political, social, economic, and cultural forces that have influenced and continue to shape Asia. The Asian studies area is defined to include South Asia, Southeast Asia, Inner Asia, and East Asia. Students with an interest in Asia who are majoring in international studies, international business, and relevant liberal arts disciplines will especially benefit from this program.

Minor in Asian Studies

A minor in Asian studies will require completion of 18 credit hours from the list of approved courses. There will be six hours of required courses. The remaining twelve hours will be made up of elective courses, with no more than six elective hours taken from any one discipline. Courses in Asian languages are recommended. A student may transfer up to six semester hours in an approved Asian language. Students are strongly encouraged to take advantage of study abroad programs at Bradley University in areas listed above.
