To writers: The Center for Legal Studies would like to thank you for taking the time to assist the applicant with their application for the IU Bradley Law Scholar program. Successful applicants will receive a tuition scholarship ranging from $10,500-$24,000 per year, depending on residency and full time or part time status with the Indiana University, Robert H, McKinney School of Law, as well as have the opportunity to do research with a law faculty member as a paid research assistant. Additionally, Bradley Scholars with law school GPA’s above 3.0 will have internship opportunities not available to other students. I look forward to reading your recommendation.

To be eligible for the Bradley Law Scholar Program, the nominee must be a current Bradley student in good academic standing or an alumnus. The student must have a Bradley GPA of 3.4 or better and an LSAT score of 152 or better. The CFLS makes recommendations to IU; however, IU- McKinney School of Law makes the final determination of whether to offer the scholarship. The scholarship opportunity is limited to two successful applicants per year.
