OBJECTIVES

General Objectives

The Counseling program is designed to prepare students from a multicultural and diverse society for positions as professional counselors in various settings. The Counseling faculty believe that the professional counselor's work should promote the positive growth and development of the clients with whom the counselor interacts.

The Counseling model for training counselors recognizes the profound interactive effect of people and human systems. We believe there is a need for social science translators - people who are in touch with the best in theory and research - which can translate this knowledge into effective programs and eventually evaluate them. Because we believe that counselors should experience personal growth and development as persons and as professionals, all courses are designed to provide cognitive and experiential learning.

Graduate education in Counseling is also designed to help students realize their potential, engage in satisfying human relationships, manage their affairs, and develop a set of meaningful values.

We consider ethnic and cultural trends so that learning experiences will be satisfying and useful for students who take advantage of the opportunities provided.

The Counseling faculty, recognizing the uniqueness of human beings, seek to identify and extend knowledge, skills, and attitudes required by practitioners in counseling. This emphasis on uniqueness facilitates transfer to our students and enables them to meet the needs of all types of clientele. The faculty believes that to perform effectively, practitioners must possess respect for human dignity and worth, a commitment to the fulfillment of individual potential, an understanding of educational and counseling processes, knowledge in their specific field of endeavor. Also, competence in the application of professional expertise in counseling and inquiry, knowledge of the role and function of others working in related specialties, and maturity in self-development.

To develop such practitioners, the faculty must exhibit the above attitudes, behaviors, and competencies to serve as models of appropriate behavior for their students.

Finally, the faculty should select, encourage, and retain students in counselor education who can become such competent practitioners. To prepare skilled practitioners, the faculty implement a program that fosters:

1. Respect for the dignity and worth of the individual;
2. Commitment to the fulfillment of human potential;
3. Maturity in self-development;
4. Understanding of educational and counseling processes;
5. Knowledge in his/her particular field of endeavor;
6. Competence in the application of professional expertise;
7. Knowledge of the role and function of professionals; and
8. Commitment to inquiry.

General Objectives for the Professional School Counseling Concentration

1. To prepare counselors to effectively work with teachers, administrators, and other members of the guidance and student assistance team.
2. To qualify persons to be licensed to counsel in schools.
3. To train counselors to act as consultants in schools.
4. To provide counselors with knowledge and application of skills and theories related to counseling needs at the elementary and secondary school level.
5. To provide counselors with a high degree of self-understanding.
6. To facilitate counselors being able to effectively communicate feelings and factual information.
7. To facilitate counselors obtaining human evaluation skills.
8. To facilitate counselors developing a high degree of sensitivity and acceptance of other people's behavior.
9. To foster an awareness of the responsibilities of professional school practitioners to the development and maintenance of quality instruction.

10. To demand and teach ethical and moral practices of counselors following the American Counseling Association (ACA) Ethical Guidelines.
11. To facilitate counselors developing a high degree of sensitivity and acceptance of human diversity and to develop counseling skills using appropriate diversity knowledge, awareness, and skills.

General Objectives for Clinical Mental Health Counseling Concentration

1. To prepare counselors to effectively work with clinical mental health and agency personnel supporting the unique needs of each client.
2. To qualify persons to be certified and/or licensed.
3. To train counselors to act as consultants and advocates in the field.
4. To provide counselors with knowledge and application of skills and theories related to counseling needs in the environment in which they choose to work.
5. To enhance a high degree of self-understanding by counselors.
6. To facilitate counselors being able to effectively communicate feelings and factual information.
7. To facilitate counselors obtaining human evaluation skills.
8. To facilitate counselors developing a high degree of sensitivity and acceptance of other people's behavior.
9. To encourage awareness of responsibilities particular to a variety of clinical mental health settings.
10. To demand and teach ethical and moral practices of counselors following the ACA Ethical Guidelines.

COUNSELING MISSION STATEMENT

The Counseling Program faculty educates compassionate and competent professional leaders who promote social justice and global community relationships.

COUNSELING VISION STATEMENT

The M.A. in Counseling program creates a socially just learning community of counselors and leaders who advance multicultural competence.

ADMISSION PROCESS

In conjunction with the Graduate School, University, and the ECL Department, efforts are made to recruit students from diverse populations. All inquiries for an application to the Counseling program should be sent to the Graduate School, Bradley University. Applicants must meet Graduate School requirements.

Admission to the Master of Arts in Counseling is based on a thorough review of each applicant's documents. Requirements include:

Grade Point Average (Official Academic Transcripts)

- a. Undergraduate last-60-hour cumulative major grade point average of 3.0 or higher based on a 4.0 scale for unconditional admission.
- b. Undergraduate last-60-hour cumulative major grade point average of 2.75 or higher based on a 4.0 scale for conditional admission. (Additional examinations may be required including GRE, MAT when the grade point average is less than 3.0)

Three professional and/or academic letters of references

- c. At least one professional reference must be from a current supervisor.

Submit a 250-500-word essay to each request:

- d. Explain achievements and work experience that are relevant to your interests in and capacity for graduate study.
- e. Describe your career objectives and how the graduate program will assist you in attaining them.

Completion of Online Screening Process:

- f. Complete an online interview with faculty members. This will be done in groups of up to five students on a prearranged time. (Larger groups may create bandwidth problems.)

Submit the online application by paying the non-refundable application fee of $40 by credit card. The fee for international applicants is $50.

Non-Illinois Residents

Prospective students who reside outside Illinois are strongly encouraged to become familiar with fundamental and current certification and licensure requirements and for reciprocity rules and standards applicable to the practice of professional counseling where they reside or where they plan to practice. The ECL Department will provide students with verification of their academic status obtained from our counseling program.

International Applicants

International students who are interested in applying to Bradley University should contact the Graduate School (<http://www.bradley.edu/academic/gradschool/>) to learn about application requirements.

Reasonable Accommodations

The Office of Student Access Services (OSAS) is committed to creating a positive student experience at Bradley University and provides equal access to an educational experience through the provision of academic accommodations. After submitting documentation, a student, with OSAS, will create an accommodation contract and work on developing self-advocacy skills for requesting the approved accommodations. Although the OSAS cannot grant all personal requests, the office will use a collaborative approach to determine the accommodations based on documentation and functional limitations. The OSAS is located in Heitz Hall, room 100 and is open Monday – Friday, 9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. They can be reached at 309-677-3654. Students seeking assistance should visit the website for Bradley’s Office of Student Access Services at <https://bradley.edu/offices/student/sas/>.

Any student who wishes to request a reasonable accommodation must submit appropriate documentation of the disability to the Director of the OSAS. Documentation is kept confidential and maintained in the OSAS office. Information from the file is only released with the student's written consent in keeping with FERPA and HIPAA privacy protections.

Further Information

Applicants with deficiencies in requirements will be evaluated on an individual basis. For further information about the admission process, please visit: <http://www.bradley.edu/academic/gradschool/admission/>

TECHNOLOGY SUPPORT AND EXPECTATIONS FOR STUDENTS

Technology Support

On-campus students who experience technical problems should contact the Technology Help Desk by calling 309-677-2964, visit the Help Desk in the Cullom-Davis Library, or request services online: <https://www.bradley.edu/helpdesk/>.

Online student support is available through the 24/7 Help Desk. Students who experience technical problems should contact Technical Support that is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, every day of the year by 877-283-8959 or visiting the Support Portal: <http://bradley.echelp.org>.

Technology Expectations for Students

Students are expected to be proficient with a variety of software applications. Students who need assistance training in these applications should contact their Faculty Advisor.

To ensure students’ ability to engage in online learning and to complete assignments in a timely fashion, they will need to invest in a computer that satisfies at minimum these system specifications. Technology requirements are available at:

<https://sakai.bradley.edu/access/content/group/84b0c656-7181-4e9e-9e9b-a143e8d9cccf/Bootstrap/technicalandacademicsupportnewfaculty.html>

MASTER DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 for a master's degree. The Program requires 60-61 semester hours of graduate work for completion of the Counseling Program. The Program consists of a graduate core of six semester hours and a Program core of 45 semester hours of study. In addition, 9 semester hours of course work should be selected for an academic concentration.

Students must follow the Graduate Catalog guidelines of the year they were admitted, or as amended via an updated Program of Study developed in consultation with their Faculty Advisor.

NON-DEGREE SEEKING STUDENTS (NDG)

Non-degree seeking students are not eligible to take classes in the ECL Department after completing nine (9) hours of Department courses. At this time, the non-degree seeking student in good academic standing must apply to an ECL degree or post-master certificate program and be accepted. All prerequisites must be met to register for an ENC course, and registration in any course is at the discretion of the Department.

STUDENT FILE POLICY

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974 and the mission of the Department of Education, Counseling, and Leadership. All student files are the property of the ECL Department. FERPA affords students the right to inspect and review education records. Students must submit a request to review records in writing to the Chair of the ECL Department.

RECORDING POLICY

It is never permissible for students to make a video or audio recording or record classes (unless OSAS accommodations require this for student success in a course) of interactions among students, faculty, or staff of the ECL department without the express written consent of all parties involved. Failure to abide by this policy may result in disciplinary action including program dismissal.

WRITING STYLE FORMAT FOR COUNSELING PROGRAMS

Students must use the current edition and printing of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association style in all written work. When using online sources, only refereed/reputable online sources will be accepted. Guidelines for the refereed/reputable online sources may be found in the current APA Publication Manual. Questions about a particular resource should be referred to the course instructor.

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION

In accordance with the Graduate Catalog, each student is required to complete a comprehensive exam in their final semester. The Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) is a standardized multiple-choice test designed to assess core areas outlined in the curriculum section of this Handbook. Students must pass each core area to advance toward graduation. Those students who pass within the top five percent will be designated as having "Passed with Distinction." In the event a student fails to pass one or more core areas, an oral defense will be arranged within four weeks after administration of the CPCE. The defense will be limited to only those core areas not passed on the initial CPCE. For a student who fails to pass half or more of the core areas or fails the oral defense, the CPCE must be retaken by the conclusion of the following semester.

Students are responsible for all fees associated with the CPCE. The ECL Department will notify the students of the fee process during the semester of their practicum course. Learn more about the CPCE by visiting: <http://www.cce-global.org/Org/CPCE>.

CERTIFICATION AND LICENSURE

NATIONAL COUNSELOR EXAMINATION and SCHOOL COUNSELING LICENSURE IN ILLINOIS

National Counselor Examination

In the final year of study, the National Counselor Examination (NCE) is administered. Those who pass the NCE become Nationally Certified Counselors (NCCs). This credential is recognized throughout the U.S. The NCE is also required for Illinois LPC licensure, and may be required for other states. Students who are the subject of current or previous legal, criminal, or disciplinary matters are required to provide relevant information to the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) at the time of completing the NCE application. Counseling faculty members strongly encourage students who may need to make such disclosures to meet with their Faculty Advisor as soon as possible AND contact NBCC (336-547-0607) to become familiar with the review process. For more information about the NCE visit: <http://nbcc.org/Certification/NCC>.

School Counseling Licensure in Illinois

Effective February 1, 2012, all professional education and content-area coursework required for the issuance of Illinois licensure, endorsement or approval must have been passed with a grade of no lower than a "C" or equivalent. (ISBE)

To be a licensed school counselor in the State of Illinois, students must follow state and college licensure procedures. Follow the instructions for the Illinois Educator License Application Process in the Program Attachment Section of this Handbook. Registration, dates, study guide, and test frameworks for the content area test can be found at <http://www.icts.nesinc.com>. Further inquiries can be made to the Licensure Officer, Colleen Slane, at (309) 677-3492 or colleen@fsmail.bradley.edu.

School Counseling Licensure for another State

Information or application forms can be obtained by contacting the State Board of Education for the state to which you are applying. Caution: An Illinois State counseling license permits you to counsel only in the state of Illinois.

Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC)

Granted by the Illinois Division of Financial and Professional Regulation. The application and directions are available at <http://www.idfpr.com/profs/ProfCounselor.asp>. One of the forms, ED Certificate of Education that documents your education at Bradley University, must be completed by the Licensure Officer. The NCE exam must be taken and passed for Illinois LPC licensure.

Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor - Illinois (LCPC)

After "2 years of full-time satisfactory supervised experience working as a clinical professional counselor under the direction of a qualified supervisor," you may apply to take the exam for the Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor in the State of Illinois. The application and directions are available at <http://www.idfpr.com/profs/ProfCounselor.asp>. Again, the form, ED Certificate of Education, must be completed by the Licensure Officer. This form will be returned to you to submit along with the rest of the application. Further inquiries can be made to Colleen Slane, Licensure Officer, at (309-677-3492) or colleen@fsmail.bradley.edu.

Certification and Licensure Requirements in the U.S.

For detailed information about the difference between certification and licensure, visit the NBCC explanation website at <http://www.nbcc.org/Certification>. A list of state licensure boards is available at <http://www.nbcc.org/directory> as well as the licensure requirements for professional counseling practice from the American Counseling Association, available at <http://www.counseling.org/knowledge-center/licensure-requirements>.

COUNSELING CANDIDATE

PROGRAM PROGRESS AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT REVIEW

Upon enrolling in a course that begins a student’s 30th credit hour in the Counseling program, the counseling student (hereafter Candidate) will meet with his or her Faculty Advisor. The purpose of this meeting is to assess and evaluate the Candidate’s progress throughout the Counseling program, including the Candidate’s Program of Study, progress of student learning in each of the eight core areas, and professional dispositions. Before this meeting both the Candidate and Faculty Advisor complete the Program Progress and Professional Development Review Form. Similarities and discrepancies between the two assessments will be discussed at the meeting. The Faculty Advisor will complete this formative evaluation of the Candidate’s progress and, where necessary, direct the Candidate to remediate any academic, personal/social, or career concerns identified during the advising meeting. If the Faculty Advisor identifies significant areas of deficits or concerns, she or he may begin the mentoring/retention as described in this Handbook.

(Note: Progress and Professional Development Review Form is adapted from the Bradley University Student Retention Evaluation and the Western Illinois University Counselor Education Internship Mid-Term Student Evaluation.

STUDENT RETENTION POLICY

The M.A in Counseling Program's review and retention procedures serve two major purposes:

1. To provide students with information related to their progress that will enable them to take advantage of strengths and also to eliminate weaknesses.
2. To provide the Counseling faculty with information about the progress of students. This information will aid the faculty's decisions regarding the training and professional development of students wishing to become future counselors. The Counseling faculty are concerned about the suitability of every student entering the counseling profession. They seek evidence of satisfactory performance in academic course work and any weaknesses in inquiry, practical skills, and professional development relevant to their academic concentrations.

Student Review and Retention Policy

The student review and retention policy of the Counseling program enables faculty and students to share information about individual candidate progress. To create and maintain a vital relationship between faculty and student candidates, and to promote a program focus on student professional development across a variety of areas, a STUDENT REVIEW AND RETENTION PROGRAM was formed. This includes a Program Screening Committee for potential new students into the program, and a Program Progress Committee for those already admitted.

The two-fold purpose of the STUDENT REVIEW AND RETENTION PROGRAM REVIEW is to:

1. Help ensure a goodness of fit between potential degree candidates and the profession of Counseling; and
2. Initiate and maintain a continuing "progress check" which allows both degree candidates and their teaching mentors to exchange professional and Programmatic concerns.

In addition:

1. One of the central responsibilities of the Program Screening Committee is to evaluate and recommend/not recommend a candidate's suitability for program admission; and
2. One of the responsibilities entrusted to Program Progress Committee members is to formally recommend/not recommend student continuance within the Counseling Program.

Written protocol will guide the work of each committee. The protocol is available to all Counseling students in this Handbook. The Program Screening Committee is made up of Counseling Program faculty. The Program Progress Committee will be made up of all Counseling Program faculty assigned to the program.

PROGRAM SCREENING

All applicants to the program must be involved in a screening process. The faculty will conduct scheduled interviews with program applicants. If problems or concerns arise, the applicant will be informed and an interview with the faculty will be arranged. If there is unanimous faculty agreement that a candidate has not successfully completed the screening process and will therefore not be admitted into the program (including any other germane reason during the admission process of which the screening process is a component), the candidate will be notified in a timely manner through personal and written communication.

Screening sessions are conducted online through video. The faculty committee will video-interview applicants at a prescheduled time. Applicants will register for an interview time during the application process.

PROGRAM PROGRESS

In accordance with the American Counseling Association and the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs, Standards, Counseling faculty are required to review students for mentoring and retention purposes. To assist successful progression toward graduation, the review is designed to specify areas where students need faculty direction or mentoring. The Mentoring Retention Review Survey (MRRS) addresses ethical, interpersonal, and academic areas of student development. In a small number of cases, a student's continued difficulty may result in removal from the Counseling program. A copy of the MRRS is included at the end of the policy statement.

Review Frequency

Counseling program faculty will complete an MRRS for any student he or she has taught. The following actions are not sequential. For example, a student may go directly to a formal action or retention review if he or she violates the Bradley University Student Code of Conduct, commits a misdemeanor, or a felony in contradiction to any local or federal law, or violates the ACA Code of Ethics.

Formal Action

- If a student receives a total score of one through four, in one term, the reviewing faculty member(s) may implement a formal correction plan, after bringing the MRRS results for consideration by all Program faculty members. If Counseling program faculty members agree, the student's Faculty Advisor will develop a formal correction plan. The correction plan is approved by the faculty.
- The student will receive a letter documenting the formal correction plan. In the event the reviewing faculty member is the student's Faculty Advisor, either party may ask another Counseling faculty member to join the meeting.

Retention Review

- After implementation of the formal correction plan, if a student receives a one or more on any review, or if a student receives a score of five or more in the absence of a prior formal correction plan:
 - The student's Faculty Advisor will submit an email request for a retention review to the ECL Department Chairperson
 - The student under review will be notified via email of the date, time, location, and reasons for the retention review. Online reviews may be conducted for students residing outside of the Peoria, Illinois area. In either case, whether in person or online, any cited student MUST attend the review session as scheduled by the Counseling faculty. If the student is absent whether by choice or circumstance, the review will be conducted In Absentia.
 - The student will be informed of the reasons for the review.
 - The student will be asked to respond to Counseling program faculty concerns during the retention review meeting.
 - During a closed session, Counseling program faculty will vote on the student's retention.
- The student's Faculty Advisor will notify the student of the retention review decision.
- To comply with accreditation standards, the M.A. in Counseling program will use this review process for retention, remediation, and dismissal of counseling students. The dismissal process for non-academic reasons is found in the Graduate School Catalog. In addition to the Graduate School process, Counseling faculty will use this review and retention process which may be initiated by any university community member, or program faculty or staff member to address and/or to resolve, including but not limited to, Counseling students' actions contrary to ethical principles of the counseling profession, acts of misconduct, acts of academic dishonesty, acts that violate any local or federal law, or any other conduct that is contradictory with a professional identity in counseling. The Counseling faculty will convene to address the concern which may not necessarily be academic in nature. A decision from the Counseling faculty will be presented to the Dean of the Graduate School for implementation.

Student Protest

At any time, if a student wishes to contest any part of the retention process, he or she is advised to follow the Student Grievance process as outlined in the Bradley University Student Handbook, available at:

<https://www.bradley.edu/academic/undergradcat/20202021/overview-argrievance.dot>

PERSONAL COUNSELING SERVICES

Counseling faculty encourage all students to seek personal counseling for the purposes of learning, personal growth, and exploration. On occasion, individual students may be required to seek personal counseling to address issues that impede successful program progression.

Information about personal counseling services provided by professional counselors other than counselor program faculty, will be provided upon request. On campus students pay a student fee that funds access to personal counseling through the University Counseling Center. An additional health fee is assessed when the initial appointment is made.

Bradley University's Counseling Center maintains an online Mental Health Resource list that may be useful to all students. The list is available at: <https://www.bradley.edu/campuslife/healthservices/counseling/resources/>. Students can also visit the American Counseling Association's "Find a Counselor" search engine: <https://www.counseling.org/aca-community/learn-about-counseling/what-is-counseling>; the National Board of Certified Counselor's "Counselor Find": <http://nbcc.org/Search/CounselorFind>; or Psychology Today's "Find a Therapist": https://therapists.psychologytoday.com/rms/?tr=Hdr_Brand.

CURRICULUM

Central to any program is a unified curriculum rather than simply a collection of courses. The curriculum of the Counseling Program and its Counselor Education and Supervision emphasis was founded on the Standards for the Preparation of Counselors and other Personnel Services Specialists adopted by the Association for Counselor Education and Supervision (ACES) in 1973. These standards were adopted by the American Association for Counseling and Development (AACD) in 1979. In 1981, AACD created the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) to evaluate and accredit Programs using these standards. AACD changed its official name to the American Counseling Association in 1992. The Master of Arts in Counseling at Bradley University has been CACREP accredited since 1993 for its campus-based offering. Beginning in January 2016, the Counseling program offers via distance technologies, the equivalent academic curriculum of its M.A. in Counseling program to students from various geographical locations. The Higher Learning Commission authorized the online delivery of this accredited counseling curriculum in 2015. This curriculum comprises two tracks toward a Master of Arts in Counseling: Professional School Counseling and Clinical Mental Health Counseling.

Common Core Curriculum

Area I - Professional Orientation and Ethical Practice- Includes studies that provide an understanding of professional counseling.

Area II - Social and Cultural Diversity - Includes studies that provide an understanding of the cultural context of relationships, issues, and trends in a multicultural society.

Area III - Human Growth and Development - Includes studies that provide an understanding of the nature and needs of persons at all developmental levels and in multicultural contexts.

Area IV - Career Development – Includes studies that provide an understanding of career development and related life factors

Area V - The Helping Relationship - Includes studies that provide an understanding of the counseling process in a multicultural society

Area VI - Group Work – Includes studies that provide both theoretical and experiential understandings of group purpose, development, dynamics, theories, methods, skills, and other group approaches in a multicultural society.

Area VII - Assessment - Includes studies that that provide an understanding of individual and group approaches to assessment and evaluation in a multicultural society.

Area VIII - Research and Program Evaluation - Includes studies that provide an understanding of research methods, statistical analysis, needs assessment, and Program evaluation.

Area IX - Professional Practice - includes practicum and internship; provides for the application of theory and the development of counseling skills under supervision. These experiences will provide opportunities for students to counsel clients who represent the ethnic and demographic diversity of their community.

SUPERVISED PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

(Professional Practice Practicum-Internship Handbook included at the end of this document)

The Counseling Program requires a variety of supervised professional practice experiences. These developmental experiences begin in Practicum and culminate in Internship. The Counseling program prefers that Practicum and Internship take place at one site, although this is not mandatory.

The program requires students to arrange and complete a supervised practicum that totals a minimum of 100 clock hours. Forty of those clock hours must be direct service work with appropriate clientele. At least 10 direct hours should include group work. The remaining hours provide opportunities to perform some of the activities that a regularly employed staff member in the setting would be expected to perform.

The Counseling program requires students to complete a supervised internship of 650 clock hours of which 240 hours are of direct service. At least 60 direct hours should be in the form of group work. The internship provides an opportunity for the student to perform all the activities that a regularly employed professional counselor would be expected to perform. Internship hours are collected during the courses, ENC 691: Internship I and 692: Internship II.

It is the students' responsibility to find an agency or supervisory site to complete these supervised experiences. This expectation applies to both campus-based, and online students who may reside in different geographical locations. These may include and may not be limited to elementary or secondary schools, mental health centers, special community agencies such as women's centers, prisons or work-release centers, residential treatment centers, employment centers, and hospital wards.

Students will commence a search for a site only with approval of their Faculty Advisor, who will ensure students have met program expectations to begin their supervised professional practice experiences. The program will verify the necessary credentials of site supervisors. These credentials must satisfy local laws, and national standards for supervision of counseling students. The Counseling Coordinator will sign agreements with supervision sites, site supervisors, and individual students for the required supervised experiences. These agreements do not constitute labor relationships with site supervisors or counseling students, nor do these agreements establish a physical presence for the University in different geographical locations. Students remain responsible for abiding by the policies of their professional practice site and for negotiating reasonable accommodations when needed.

During professional practice supervised experiences, for campus-based and online counseling students, when actions contrary to ethical standards of the counseling profession, professional principles of conduct, local or federal laws, site or agency policies, or program academic expectations, and to academic integrity policy of the University arise, these actions will be resolved using the retention procedure in this Handbook and University Policy.

Campus-based Students

Practicum and internship sites must be within a 90-mile radius of the Peoria area. All sites must be approved by the Assistant Director of Graduate Programs. Sites outside the approved area must receive special consideration by writing a request explaining special circumstances to the Assistant Director of Graduate Programs. This request will be voted upon at the next scheduled counseling faculty meeting. Each request will be decided on a case by case basis and does NOT constitute a precedent for any other case.

Site supervisors must complete an orientation with the Counseling program faculty, and their academic degrees and credentials must satisfy CACREP, University and legal requirements for the provision of supervision to on-campus graduate students.

According to the College of Education and Health Sciences, the Counseling Program, and CACREP Standards, students must receive a minimum of one continuous hour per week of individual supervision and a minimum of one and one-half hours per week of group supervision. Therefore, if students want to collect hours between semesters, faculty supervision is required. Elective interim advanced internship courses are offered to accommodate those students.

Online Students

For online students, both practicum and internships sites must be within the state where the student resides. All sites and onsite supervisors, however, must be verified by the student's Faculty Advisor and the Counseling Coordinator. (This approval does not constitute professional endorsement. Rather, the program faculty will simply verify that the site supervisor has the required credentials for supervising counseling students in their area of specialty). Site supervisors must complete an orientation with the program faculty, and their academic degrees and credentials must satisfy CACREP, University and legal requirements of their own state for the provision of supervision to our online graduate students. The Counseling Coordinator will review and approve or disapprove a given site supervisor on a case by case basis and in compliance with the respective laws in the state where the student resides.

According to the College of Education and Health Sciences, the Counseling program and CACREP Standards, students must receive a minimum of one continuous hour per week of individual supervision and a minimum of one and one-half hours per week of group supervision. Therefore, if students want to collect hours between semesters, faculty supervision is required. Elective interim advanced internship courses will be offered to accommodate those students.

TRANSPORTATION POLICY

Students enrolled in ENC 690, Practicum; ENC 691, Internship I; and ENC 692, Internship II may not, under any circumstances, transport clients. Site supervisors will be informed of this policy. This expectation applies to both campus-based and online students.

ENDORSEMENT POLICY

Counseling programs are specifically and carefully designed to prepare graduates who are competent to enter work in clinical mental health or professional school counseling settings. Further, specialized preparation is essential for graduates to become effective and fully functioning professionals. Therefore, endorsements for counseling graduates can be given only for professional positions and position levels appropriate to the respective program completed by graduates.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Financial assistance may be available to students in the form of assistantships, scholarships, and low interest government loans. Students are encouraged to apply for all forms of aid for which they are eligible in order to maximize their opportunities for receiving aid.

Loans

Students must consult with the financial assistance office to receive current information about low interest government loans. Non-need-based loans and need-based loans are available to graduate students.

Contact the Student Financial Services for information on financial aid, private loans, funding options and billing. Information can be found at: http://www.bradley.edu/office_s/other/sfs/costoay/billing/index.dot.

Veteran Services, Certification of Enrollment, or Payment Issues

Contact the Office of the Registrar, Heather Berkley by phone (309-677-3643) or by email (hbb@bradley.edu). Further information for Veterans is available at: <http://www.bradley.edu/offices/academic/registrar/veterans/>

Scholarships (on-campus students only)

The Graduate School offers scholarships based on academic excellence and availability of funds to on-campus students. To be eligible for Graduate Tuition Scholarship awards, students must have a minimum GPA of 3.5. A Graduate Tuition scholarship can be awarded based on an undergraduate or graduate GPA. If a graduate GPA is used to qualify, the GPA must represent at least 12 semester hours of graduate courses. Awards range from a 20 to 35 percent tuition remission. The Professional Educators Scholarship is also available for awards of up to 50 percent tuition remission. See the Graduate School website for complete eligibility requirements. After school district reimbursement has been subtracted, scholarships make the cost of a Bradley degree comparable with state university costs. Application deadlines are April 1 and October 1.

In addition, the College of Education and Health Sciences offers scholarships annually to on-campus students. Applications for these scholarships are due in early January and the awards are announced at the Awards Program in the spring. Counseling students are eligible for the Margaret Burke Scholarship, William G. Hasselbacher Scholarship, and the Clyde R. & Jannis Smith Scholarship. Note: Doctoral, specialist degree students and full-time Graduate Assistants are not eligible. Part-time Graduate Assistants and part-time students are eligible. Students who already have financial aid, of less than 100% coverage, including the Professional Educators Scholarship and Special Degree Completion Program are eligible.

Graduate Assistantships

Graduate Assistantships are available to on-campus students. Full-time graduate assistants are given a 20-hour per week assignment by the Department and receive a stipend and waiver of 100% of actual tuition costs, with a maximum tuition award per academic year. Courses offered during Interims and Summer Sessions may not be eligible for the tuition waiver. Part-time graduate assistants are given a 10-hour per week assignment by the Department and receive a stipend and waiver of 50% of actual tuition costs, with a maximum award per academic year. Application deadlines are April 1 for the following fall semester.

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

When students are enrolled in supervised professional practice courses liability is covered by Bradley University, and students as professionals in training must obtain liability insurance, particularly before their supervised experiences. The American Counseling Association (ACA) offers students free malpractice insurance with the purchase of an ACA membership. Students must show proof of liability insurance in the amount of $1,000,000/$3,000,000 to their University supervisor within one week of the semester or session start and before working with any clients.

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Students and graduates are encouraged to join and become active in professional organizations (or associations). One method to remain current in the profession is by participating in professional organizations (presenting at various conferences, serving on committees, writing for professional journals, attending workshops, and becoming active in leadership).

While there are many benefits to be derived from membership in a professional organization, only the primary ones are noted here. As a member of a professional organization, you:

1. Receive related professional publications.
2. Are entitled to reduced membership rates and reduced registration rates for professional meetings sponsored by the organization.
3. Are eligible for member services (e.g., professional liability insurance, legal defense fund, library resource use, etc.).
4. Have a method of direct involvement with activities and issues directly or indirectly pertinent to your profession.
5. Are affiliated with other professionals having interests and areas of expertise similar to yours.
6. May maintain currency in the knowledge, practices, and research findings in the field.

Recommended Organizations

Depending on their counseling concentration and interests graduate students are strongly encouraged to be engaged in professional associations and certifying and accrediting agencies. Membership into these bodies will provide students with ample opportunities to participate in activities that may enhance their professional identities, and allow them to make contributions to their professional networks. These organizations represent the interest of professional counselors and provide guidelines for the practice of counseling. They also issue ethical guidelines to illumine the competent practice of counseling. Some of these organizations include:

American Counseling Association <http://www.counseling.org/>
National Board for Certified Counselors <http://www.nbcc.org/>
Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs <http://www.cacrep.org/>
Association for Counselor Education and Supervision <http://www.acesonline.net/>

CHI SIGMA IOTA – BETA PHI CHAPTER

The Beta Phi chapter of Chi Sigma Iota, Counseling Academic and Professional Honor Society International has been established at Bradley University. Chi Sigma Iota is an international honor society of counseling professionals and professional-in-training dedicated to excellence in scholarship, research, and clinical practice.

Membership Eligibility

Students enrolled in the Counseling Program with a GPA of 3.5 or better, and who have completed at least one semester of full-time graduate course work are eligible for membership. Potential members are invited to membership in the Fall Semester. In addition, faculty, alumni and alumnae, and professional counselors who have given evidence of distinguished scholarship and professional service may also be eligible for membership.

Benefits of Membership

Membership in an international Honor Society can make a valuable contribution to professional development. Members become part of a network of professionals who ascribe to high standards of scholarship and practice. Local chapters encourage these aspirations through speakers, Programs, and awards. The international headquarters also provides leadership to promote these goals through a variety of activities including a newsletter, member and chapter roster maintenance, annual recognition awards, support services to chapters, and an annual meeting. The certificate of membership is an outward symbol of personal and professional commitment to excellence.

THESIS PROCESS CHECKLIST

Completing a thesis is optional for Counseling Students. The decision to pursue a thesis should be made within the first 12 credits of study and discussed with the Faculty Advisor.

1. Identify a problem that represents a significant research interest in Clinical Mental Health or Professional School Counseling.
2. Identify a faculty member who might be interested in the project. Make an appointment discuss research ideas. Invite the faculty member to serve as thesis committee Chair.
3. Once a faculty member has agreed to serve in the position of thesis committee Chair the following tasks must be completed:
 - a. Identify the list of thesis committee members, consisting of one Chair, one additional member from within the Department and one from outside the Department. All members must hold graduate faculty status at Bradley University.
 - b. Ask and receive commitment from faculty members to serve on the committee.
 - c. Develop a proposal with the guidance of the thesis committee Chair. The proposal must include a problem statement, literature review, and a research methodology section. Schedule a Thesis Perspective meeting with all thesis committee members for input and approval to proceed.
 - d. If human participants are involved, a packet of materials must be obtained, completed, and submitted to the Committee and to the Bradley University Committee on the Use of Human Subjects in Research (CUHSR) for their approval. Once written notice has been received, the research can begin.
 - e. Collect and analyze data and write the thesis following the current edition of the American Psychological Association Publication Manual. A typical thesis usually includes five chapters: Chapter 1, Introduction; Chapter 2, Literature Review; Chapter 3, Research Methods; Chapter 4, Data Analysis, and Chapter 5, Discussion and Implications. Without compromising the APA Publication Manual guidelines, follow the Graduate School Guidelines for final manuscript standards.
 - f. Arrange final thesis defense date by consulting all members' availabilities. The defense must be at least two weeks before expected graduation.
4. At least two weeks before the final thesis defense, each member of the thesis committee must receive a copy of the manuscript for review and must offer editorial suggestions if needed.
5. During the thesis defense the student will be responsible for presenting a general overview of the thesis project, its results, its conclusions, and entertain questions and offer answers.
6. Counseling students are highly encouraged to submit a presentation proposal at national or state conference, submit a manuscript to a peer-reviewed journal, and present Bradley University's annual Student Research and Creative Achievement Expo held each spring.

RESIDENCY POLICY

Online Students

Background

The Higher Learning Commission authorized Bradley University to offer online academic programs in spring 2015. The Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs has accredited the Master of Arts in Counseling program at Bradley University since 1993. Bradley University offers online Clinical Mental Health Counseling and Professional School Counseling tracks to students from various geographical locations.

Purpose

Consistent with CACREP Standards, Bradley University offers a comprehensive curriculum to prepare competent counseling professionals. A crucial element of future competence in counseling entails interaction between faculty and counseling students. To ensure interaction between faculty and online counseling students, Bradley University requires two intensive one-week long residencies to enrolled online students.

Process

Online students are required to participate and to complete 2 campus-based residencies during their enrollment in the Master of Arts in Counseling program. These residencies are embedded in specific courses and require 1-week campus-based work and additional weeks, depending on the term length, of online study. The first residency (FR) is scheduled to take place during the first academic term of the program. The second residency (SR) is scheduled to take place during the eighth academic term of the program. If online counseling students should miss any of these residency requirements, the program administration will address them as follows:

1. All students are required to complete residencies. If students miss the FR, they may re-take it the during the immediate-following academic term;
2. If students miss the FR a second time, and/or if students miss the SR the first time it is offered, they will be encumbered;
3. Students who foresee missing a residency or who have missed a residency are required to discuss their case immediately with the Online Program Director and Faculty Advisor;
4. Decisions about missed residencies will be made at the department level by counseling faculty. These decisions may include but may not be limited to: (a) inability to continue in the program, (b) dismissal from the program, and/or (c) an academic probationary period for reasons other than academic.
5. Online counseling students will be notified of decisions about their missed residency in writing within five business days from the departmental decision. These notices will be sent to the students' last known addresses on record;
6. Online students may contest the decision by following the Student Grievance process outlined in the Graduate Student Catalog.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY GUIDE - A CHECKLIST

Refer to this list as you progress through the Program and check off the steps as you complete them:

- _____ 1. Read this Handbook from cover to cover!
- _____ 2. On-campus students must meet with their Faculty Advisor immediately after being admitted to develop a Program of Study(POS). (Use the department fillable pdf for your concertation area). Online students' POS is developed upon program entry and can be found in MyOnline.
- _____ 3. Meet with Faculty Advisor at least yearly during completion of courses.
- _____ 4. File Request for Approval to Transfer Course Work and required documentation if necessary.
- _____ 5. Initiate paperwork for Removal of Conditional Admission Status if necessary after completing conditional requirements (usually after first semester).
- _____ 6. Become a student member of the American Counseling Association (ACA) as soon as possible.
- _____ 7. Obtain Professional Liability Insurance from ACA by at least two month prior to beginning Practicum.
- _____ 8. Register for the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination and the National Counselor Exam during your last academic year of course work.
- _____ 9. Apply for graduation on-line through Webster when registering for final courses and meet with your Faculty Advisor to review program requirements for completion of your degree.
- _____ 10. Complete work required to remove any IP or IN grades from transcript if necessary.
- _____ 11. Professional School Counseling students need to apply for State Licensure.
- _____ 12. After receiving NCE scores, follow up with the Illinois Division of Financial and Professional Regulations for the LPC or the Licensing Board of your jurisdiction.

Guidelines for Privacy Compliance with Federal Laws

Regarding Counseling Student Videos During Supervised Professional Practice Experiences

GUIDELINES FOR PRIVACY COMPLIANCE WITH FEDERAL LAWS

REGARDING COUNSELING STUDENT VIDEOS DURING SUPERVISED EXPERIENCES

Background

Two Federal legislations impact the educational practices of universities in the United States, including public and private institutions. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA, 1974) and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA, 1996) provide privacy protections to (a) students' educational records, and (b) persons' health protected information, respectively. These privacy protection requisites are non-negotiable, and universities must develop practices that ensure privacy of these educational and health-related records' content, storage, and retrieval.

The Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) requires that counseling curricula include supervised experiences by which counseling students practice counseling skills and knowledge application experiences with real clients. To provide these supervised experiences, counseling programs enlist the collaboration of credentialed practitioners at collaborating supervisory sites or agencies where students provide counseling services to clients.

As a result, the privacy requisites from FERPA and HIPAA include the supervision and evaluation of counseling students' performance while servicing the needs of clients in diverse supervisory sites. The respective supervisory and evaluative tasks include core faculty members who sign educational agreements with site supervisors (and their respective sites/agencies) who in turn work with (campus-based and online) counseling students enrolled in supervised experiences' courses (both practicum and internships). These educational agreements do not constitute employment relationships with either site supervisors or with counseling students. Counseling students are thus required to video record the counseling services they provide to clients for supervision purposes. Clients in turn sign authorizations for these practices via informed consent statements provided at the sites where they receive services.

The content of counseling sessions must be recorded for viewing and evaluation by (a) site supervisors, (b) core-faculty members, (c) student peers, and (d) individual counseling students. These counseling video sessions are primarily subject to FERPA protections because they pertain to the educational progress that counseling students are expected to demonstrate during their counseling program. These counseling video sessions are also subject to HIPAA protections because they may contain health related information that clients share in counseling sessions (but these videos do not specifically include health insurance information, fees for services, diagnoses, or any other identifiable health protected information, nor any services billable by the University). The collaborating sites or agencies where students provide counseling to clients are the entities responsible for direct clinical services to clients, and their respective health protected records.

Rationale

Bradley University has been authorized by the Higher Learning Commission to offer online its counseling program to students from various locations. To meet the 2010 Program Integrity regulation from the U.S. Department of Education (34 CFR § 600.9), Bradley University has sought and obtained authorization from state agencies to offer its CACREP accredited counseling program to students from various geographical locations. To deliver this counseling program and to comply with the privacy requisites from FERPA and HIPAA, Bradley University has selected a Learning Management System platform, Sakai. And to enable multiple sites-based supervision and evaluation of counseling students' supervised experiences, Bradley University has enlisted a video tools compliant with IDPAA privacy requisites, Bongo and Zoom. The interface of Sakai/Canvas and Bongo/Zoom enable Bradley University to offer the Master of Arts in Counseling program to students from various geographical locations, including those who reside close to the university campus and attend campus-based courses.

Provision of privacy under federal laws is not synonymous with a product brand. Instead, privacy protection is a process that requires guidelines and purposeful compromise from different stakeholders to ensure that privacy of records can be objectified. To meet its educational mission, Bradley University requires commitment from distance technology vendors, core-faculty members, site supervisors, and counseling students to ensure that counseling videos are kept private. These counseling videos are for the primary purpose of evaluating skills acquisition and knowledge application of students when working with clients. Whereas reviewing and negotiating expansions of contractual agreements and affidavits from vendors is a potential means to update technical processes for encryption and retrieval of counseling videos and files, a periodic review and implementation of guidelines for recording, storing, and retrieving videos and information for academic evaluation must also be done to remain current with technological advances applicable to web-based pedagogy in higher education. In this regard, technical personnel at Bradley University or its affiliates (e.g., vendors or collaborating agencies) may be required to sample videos or files only to ensure optimal function for evaluation and other educational purposes. Technical personnel are bound by the same privacy requisites applicable to Bradley University.

Purpose

Privacy of counseling videos pertains to storing their content into an encrypted server, and keeping confidential their retrieval for educational evaluation. Access credentials to an encrypted server include unique user name, and non-transferrable passwords. Counseling students will be responsible for recording and storing these counseling videos, whereas site supervisors and core-faculty members will be responsible for confidentially retrieving these counseling videos to complete educational evaluation tasks. All counseling videos will remain in the encrypted servers only for the duration of counseling students' supervised experiences, or for the duration of counseling services provided to specific clients, whichever ends first unless otherwise specified in writing for any given client case. Specific processes, clinical notes, diagnoses, assessments, progress notes, case management notes, treatment plans, insurance information, and other health protected client information constitute client records. Collaborating supervisory sites/agencies, where students see their clients, remain responsible for providing and maintaining the privacy and integrity of these clients' records and services. Counseling videos do not constitute health records. Counseling videos are educational records for university enrolled counseling students. The content of counseling sessions in these videos will provide evidence of student performance in terms of skills' acquisition and knowledge application according to CACREP standards for ascertaining the formative professional competence of counseling students during supervised experiences. Clients will sign informed consent statements to allow counseling students to submit videos of their counseling sessions for academic evaluation and assessment of professional competence of counseling students. Site supervisors, counseling students, and counseling core faculty will sign educational agreements for supervised experiences pertinent to these guidelines.

The following guidelines provide specificity of procedures for supervision and evaluation of counseling students, as well as for the general use of Bongo/Zoom and Sakai/Canvas relevant to counseling academic courses in the counseling program at Bradley University.

PRIVACY GUIDELINES

1. Persons responsible for provision of privacy include core faculty members, section instructors, site supervisors, and counseling students enrolled in the counseling program at Bradley University (both on-campus and online), as well as technical personnel who may interact with these materials in the course of their duties.
2. Handouts or educational materials added to courses must include a legend as applicable: "Adapted from... "to comply with the American Psychological Association publication manual on crediting sources. These materials will be made available first in electronic form through Sakai, and then these materials will be printed as needed.
 - a. Handouts will include: professional disclosures, informed consent statements, evaluation forms, and other related materials for the provision of counseling to clients;
3. Students will be informed what to expect if it becomes evident that what they share may indicate a greater need for professional assistance;
4. Students will work with student peers to practice counseling skills. These videos are played back for academic evaluation of the helper's skills development.
5. Other students in the class may also view these videos and provide feedback to the helper,
 - a. Faculty members will enable viewing functions for other students during group supervision or triadic supervision sessions;
6. Students practicing counseling skills must be prepared to explain what specific skills they intended to use in the video session.
7. Counseling students are responsible for destroying any copies of videos on personal devices that they submit for academic evaluation when the course ends.
 - a. Students are expected to not keep copies of videos on any device;
 - b. Students are not permitted to post videos used in these courses on online media channels for public consumption. In these cases, students or persons posting these unauthorized materials shall be solely responsible for violation of privacy entitlements to the persons and/or content in these materials;

- c. If copies of submitted videos remain in personal devices, students are responsible for deleting these videos and to notify the core faculty they have deleted these videos;
 - d. Keeping copies of videos on personal devices may be subject to disciplinary action;
 - e. Removal of videos from server-based libraries is also expected from faculty and students at the end of each course;
 - f. Failure to delete videos from local devices (e.g., personal computer, mobile devices) or server-based libraries may result in disciplinary action by the counseling department.
8. Faculty members will inform counseling students how they may expect to be graded for their skills portrayed in the videos they submit; and
 9. Faculty members will inform counseling students what to expect if they were to consistently fail to exhibit the skills they are expected to practice.

Guidelines for Practicum and Internship Classes

1. Persons responsible for provision of privacy include core faculty members, section instructors, site supervisors, and counseling students enrolled in the counseling program at Bradley University (both campus-based and online); as well as technical personnel who may interact with these materials in the course of their duties.
2. Site supervisors and core faculty will evaluate students' performance in terms of skills acquisition and knowledge application during counseling sessions.
 - a. Core faculty and site supervisors will communicate about grades, but only core faculty will assign grades for clinical skills acquisition and knowledge application, and these grades/ratings will be relevant to current CACREP standards;
 - b. Evaluation forms will be available in Sakai;
 - c. Informed consent statements and other educational materials will be available in Sakai;
 - d. Evaluation forms will be used by faculty and site supervisors for educational purposes as indicated in (a) above;
 - e. Gradebook tools in Sakai will aggregate grades per student per course. This will help generate reports that indicate how students are meeting CACREP standards, under the educational objectives of the program in compliance with the educational mission of the University. Grades constitute educational records under FERPA. These grades will also be used to inform evaluation and development strategies of the counseling program.
3. Following compliance with "fair evaluation practices," students will receive and have access to feedback or evaluations from core faculty/site supervisors.
 - a. These evaluations/feedback will be aggregated as grades through the LMS platform for educational purposes (grades assigned for students' performance do not constitute medical records or health insurance related information. Further, grades do not contain client personal information, diagnoses, assessments, fees for services or any other identifiable personal information protected under healthcare law).
4. Student videos of counseling sessions will be pertinent to every face to face contact students will have with their clients.
 - a. Counseling videos will capture the confidential conversations between student counselors and their assigned clients for the purpose of skill acquisition and knowledge application in counseling;
 - i. Counseling videos contain confidential conversations that may reveal client mental health related information. No specific professional interpretation will be included in these videos. The purpose of these counseling videos is only to ascertain counseling students' demonstration of conduct of therapeutic nature;
 - ii. Counseling videos do not constitute medical records or health insurance related information. Further, counseling videos do not contain specific client personal information, diagnosis, assessments, fees for services, or any other identifiable personal information protected under healthcare law;
 - b. Clients will sign informed consent forms and grant authorization for student counselors to record their sessions and to submit these recordings for evaluation by program core faculty, site supervisors, and student peers during group or triadic supervision.
5. Students will primarily record directly (with their devices' cameras and microphones) into the encrypted web-browser-based video tool, Bongo/Zoom.

- a. This recording process requires students to enable their devices to record onto the web-browser based video tool, Bongo/Zoom;
6. If students were to use a device for recording and later uploading their videos into Bongo/Zoom, these videos will have to be removed completely from that device:
 - a. If students use their supervision sites' equipment for recording videos, according to site policies; then, students will indicate this fact as they submit their videos for review and evaluation (including approved practices for deletion from their supervision site);
 - b. At the end of therapy or at the end of supervised experience, students (and their site supervisors will oversee that this happens) will delete any videos captured on any device and not directly recorded on Bongo/Zoom,
 - i. Student videos will also be deleted from their server-based libraries at the end of the supervised experience, or at the end of provision of services to clients;
 - ii. Faculty and site supervisors will also ensure that their server-based libraries are deleted when services to particular clients end, or when the students' supervised experiences end;
 1. Failure to comply with deletion of videos either from local devices or from server-based libraries will result in disciplinary action by the University;
 - c. When reviewing and evaluating videos, site supervisors and faculty will not download the videos they are streaming for any reason, neither will students;
 - i. If these videos are downloaded, they will be deleted at the end of therapy or at the end of the students' supervised experience,
 - ii. Failure to delete downloaded or locally stored student videos will result in disciplinary action by the University;
 - d. When individually viewing and grading/evaluating students' videos, faculty and site supervisors will secure a private physical and/or virtual! space for preserving the privacy of video content,
 - i. When viewing and grading students' videos in a group or a triadic supervision format (as required by CACREP), faculty and site supervisors will remind student peers of their adherence to confidentiality of video content as required by law;
 - e. Video equipment used for recording, streaming, or evaluating student videos will not be left unattended,
 - i. This video equipment will be secured by users,
 - ii. Log-in credentials will not be transferable and must not be shared with anyone.
 - iii. Sharing personal credentials with another to access video tools or video content will be subject to disciplinary actions by the University;
 - iv. Disciplinary actions by the university pertaining violation of these guidelines includes but is not limited to dismissal from the program and/or the University.

Technology Requirements from Bongo/Zoom

1. Technological requirements may be form online at: <http://www.youseeu.com/system-requirements/>
Bongo/Zoom is designed to work with many different computers, cameras, and Internet browsers, but there are basic requirements to ensure quality of streaming experience.
 - a. Both desktop and laptop computers are preferred over mobile devices for accessing Bongo/Zoom. Bongo/Zoom is web-browser based and it is compatible with Apple and Windows computers. Mobile devices, including iPads, do not have the operating system features to conduct all activity types in Bongo/Zoom.
 - i. Operating systems for computers must be updated and current;
 - ii. Web-browsers must be updated and current.
 - b. An Internet connection with at least 300Kbs upload and download speed is required.
 - c. A wired Internet connection is strongly recommended.
 - d. Preferred web-browsers for Bongo/Zoom and Sakai include Chrome and Firefox.
 - i. Browser restrictions and Extensions or Add-ons can affect Bongo/Zoom performance.
 - e. To provide technical assistance, the University has made available a Help Desk through the Technical and Academic Support tool in course sites.
 - f. All computers used for video recording and for video streaming must have a current version of Adobe Flash.

- i. Specifications for using Adobe Flash vary for Apple and Windows devices.
- g. A functional webcam and microphone available in every computer is required.
 - i. External video camera or microphone are accepted and optional. Users must seek technical assistance if needed to ensure their optimal performance.
 - ii. Medium quality video settings are acceptable. High quality or high definition video will increase the size of the file and require further editing.
 - 1. To edit a video file to reduce the size or trim the starting or ending point, a standard program like Microsoft Movie Maker or iMovie may be required.
- h. For all technical assistance contact the Help Desk in Sakai and Bongo/Zoom.

MASTER OF ARTS IN COUNSELING

PROGRAM

Supervised Professional Practice Experience:

PRACTICUM AND INTERNSHIP COUNSELING HANDBOOK

2020 - 2021

Master of Arts in Counseling:
Professional School Counseling
Clinical Mental Health Counseling

INTRODUCTION

This Handbook is designed to introduce prospective student interns to departmental expectations and requirements for satisfactory completion of ENC 690 (Practicum) and ENC 691 and 692 (Internship). No Handbook can ever wholly prepare one for the Practicum and Internship experience, and resultant learning can come only through the exploration of the unknown, taking risks, making mistakes, celebrating successes, and incorporating this learning into one's counseling. However, this Handbook can provide information about much of the necessary paperwork, suggest ways to ensure reliable communication between students and supervisors, and share background information relative to professional standards, practices, and ethics. This Handbook focuses on the mechanics, thereby freeing the intern to focus on and maximize the learning experience that the Internship provides. All information in this section applies to both campus-based and online counseling students.

I. PREREQUISITES

ENC690: Practicum – the following must be completed prior to taking ENC690: Practicum:

- Complete the Program Progress and Professional Development Review with your Faculty Advisor.
- Earn a grade of B or higher in ENC620: Introduction to Professional Counseling, ENC623: Pre-Practicum in Counseling, ENC624: Theories and Techniques of Counseling, and ENC625: Principles of Group Counseling.
- School Counseling students who will seek licensure from the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE), must pass a state subject matter test in their specialty area prior to Practicum. These requirements are subject to change.

ENC691 Internship I

- Earn a B or better in ENC 690 Practicum.
- Gain permission to transition to Internship from Practicum University Supervisor.

ENC692 Internship II

- Earn a B or better in ENC 691.

Purpose of the Practicum and Internship

Practicum and Internships emphasize developing counseling skills. Although students assume a broad spectrum of counseling roles and functions, the focus of Practicum and Internship is on individual and group counseling. The intent is to relate academic and theoretical learning to field experience. The Practicum/Internship experience provides students with evaluative feedback on their knowledge, attitudes, and skills with specific client populations. Practicum/Internship students participate in on-site activities that are similar to the responsibilities of an employed counselor. The purpose of Practicum/Internship is to provide realistic, relevant, and meaningful experiences.

Practicum and Internship courses satisfy requirements for professional training as stipulated by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) accreditation standards.

II. SELECTING A SITE

Each student is responsible for selecting an appropriate site with prior discussion and approval of her or his Faculty Advisor. Students are responsible for complying with the chosen site's policies and procedures, and for seeking and obtaining reasonable accommodations with the site administration when needed. Students are encouraged to seek practicum/internship placements that are diverse in population and opportunities for professional growth. Community diversity may include (but not be limited to) race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, urban/rural location, ability/disability status, sexual orientation, country of origin or immigrant/citizenship status, and faith or religious belief. Sites should offer opportunities for rich and varied professional growth, including as many experiences as possible in areas related to CACREP core curricular standards. Selecting the most appropriate site depends on several criteria, and the student should consider the following guidelines carefully.

- When selecting a site, students should consider the type of clients with whom he or she will be working. Answers to the following questions may be relevant: Will I be exposed to a heterogeneous group of people? Will my clients be of varied socioeconomic and ethnic backgrounds? Will I be able to work with client populations with different presenting problems? Will I be allowed to choose with whom I wish to work, or will my clients be assigned? What are the hours of operation?

- Facilities also play an important role in site selection. Certain minimum standards must be met. Suitably equipped office space must be available to each student to ensure counseling privacy and the ability to video record counseling sessions. Additional facilities and equipment (such as cameras, observation rooms, computer availability) may also be site selection considerations.
- A major portion of one's evaluation is based upon video recordings of on-site counseling sessions. Therefore, the student is responsible for selecting a site that ensures on-site recording can be accomplished. Students may use office equipment as provided by the site, or bring their own technology for recording their counseling sessions. These sessions must be submitted to program faculty for academic evaluation. When commencing every counseling relationship, students must obtain informed consent from their clients to comply with video recording expectations. Students must ensure that they delete local or web-based copies of the videos they submit for evaluation. More specifics on this process are found in the Guidelines for Privacy Compliance by the Program later in this Handbook.
- Students may not count their work activities as direct or indirect hours toward supervised experiences. Students may provide counseling services and receive supervision at their agencies/schools of employment, but these services must be in addition to and different from their work load. For example, if a student teaches at Richwoods High School and wants to complete her professional school counseling practicum and internship there, her practicum/internship activities must be different from her teaching responsibilities. If a student is employed by the Children's Home, his practicum/internship activities must be separate from his job responsibilities.
- Students may not under any circumstance transport clients when they are serving in the capacity of an intern at any Practicum or Internship site or setting.

III. SITE SUPERVISOR

The Practicum student or intern is ultimately responsible for communicating ENC departmental expectations and requirements (application procedures, assignments, recording of sessions, etc.) to the site supervisor. Site supervisors are expected to communicate with program faculty for consultation and evaluation of counseling students. These communications will take place via synchronous video technology. Site supervisors also must complete an orientation workshop with the program faculty regarding the supervision of counseling students and the applicable professional standards. This training must be completed before providing supervision to counseling students in this program, as required by CACREP.

The following steps are suggested as a means of ensuring effective communication between the student and the site supervisor:

- A. Each site supervisor will receive a letter/syllabus from the ENC department which outlines course and Professional Practice expectations. However, it is the student's responsibility to discuss fully all departmental expectations with the site supervisor.
- B. At the beginning of the Practicum, the Department will host a Site Supervisor Orientation and Supervision Training for the site supervisors. A letter of invitation will be sent to the site supervisor, but the student should also discuss this meeting with the site supervisor. Site supervisors from other geographical locations will join through web-browser based video technology.
- C. The student should be prepared to work on a number of objectives during the Practicum/Internship. These should be communicated to the site supervisor and faculty (preferably in writing). It is the student's responsibility to schedule an early meeting with the site supervisor to discuss/review these plans.
- D. As a professional courtesy, the student should provide the site supervisor with a schedule of the beginning and ending dates of the Practicum/Internship as well as dates (holidays and the like) when the student would not expect to be present at the site.

- E. At least once during the semester, the university supervisor will visit the site to meet with the site supervisor and the student. During site visits the university supervisor will discuss the intern's progress, course expectations, and may wish to observe the intern conducting one or more counseling sessions. For supervisors who reside in other geographical locations, visits from program faculty will take place synchronously through video conferencing technology.
- F. The student must spend a minimum of one continuous hour per week with the site supervisor in one-on-one, face to face supervision. The content of these sessions is determined jointly by the student and the site supervisor. The format of supervision will vary; some site supervisors will wish to critique videos, whereas others will consult with the student counselor. In any case, the student has the responsibility of making sure that she/he receives the best possible supervision. If concerns arise, the student should first talk with the site supervisor. However, if problems persist, the intern should relate such concerns to the university supervisor.
- G. Evaluations of student counselors are completed by the site supervisor once or twice a semester. The form for these evaluations should be given to the site supervisor in the beginning of the Internship so that departmental expectations are clear.

IV. INSURANCE

All students are required to have professional student malpractice insurance when enrolled in Practicum and/or Internship courses. Application forms to join the American Counseling Association (ACA), and obtain insurance through ACA are available in the ENC department and online at the ACA website (www.counseling.org). Students must have $1,000,000-$3,000,000 coverage. Securing insurance takes time and students should apply at least one month prior to the start date of Practicum/internship.

V. PRACTICUM ACTIVITIES AND GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The Practicum experience is designed and supervised by the instructors for ENC 690 and by the site supervisor. Students enrolled in Practicum are required to spend a total of 100 clock hours engaged in Practicum activities. Of these 100 hours, a minimum of 40 hours must be in direct service work with clients appropriate to one's program of study. Of the 40 direct hours, 10 should be group counseling. An emphasis is placed on developing individual and group counseling skills. The Practicum student has one hour per week in supervision with the site supervisor, one hour per week with the University Supervisor, and two and one-half hours per week in group supervision (class time). Hours can only be accumulated while enrolled in ENC690, ENC691 & 692. Students may not "bank hours" in Practicum to count toward Internship hours.

Students are required to complete the Practicum/Internship contract by the announced deadline. As soon as a contract is signed and returned to the ENC Department office, the student will be registered for a section of Practicum. This contract requires a signature from the site supervisor. A site supervisor evaluation is completed at the end of each semester. Students are required to keep an electronic weekly log describing their field experiences, the date of the experience, the amount of time spent and the student's comments about the experience. Weekly logs should be printed, signed by the student and site supervisor, and submitted to the University supervisor on a weekly basis. Students are required to attend all individual and group supervisory meetings held during the semester.

VI. INTERNSHIP ACTIVITIES AND GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The Internship (ENC 691 and ENC 692) is a required 1 to 6-semester hour supervised opportunity for the student to perform all the activities that a regularly employed counselor would be expected to perform. Students enrolled in Internship 1 and 2 are required to spend a total of 650 clock hours on Internship activities. Of the 650 hours, 240 hours are spent in direct service work with clients appropriate to one's program of study. Of those 240 direct hours, 60 should be group counseling. Internship I (ENC691) students meet one hour per week with the site supervisor and one hour per week with the faculty supervisor. Internship II (ENC692) students have one hour per week of supervision with the site supervisor and one and one-half hours every week of peer supervision in addition to class attendance. The student will meet once during the semester with a university faculty member for individual supervision. Online students residing in other geographical locations will attend supervision synchronously with program faculty via web-browser based video technology.

VII. SUPERVISION

A. Practicum

The Practicum student has one hour per week in supervision with the site supervisor, one-hour supervision per week with the University Supervisor and two and one half hours per week of group supervision (class)

The Practicum experience is designed and supervised by the instructor of the ENC690 class and by the field site supervisor.

1. Site supervisors are required to have a minimum of a master degree in counseling or related profession (Clinical Mental Health counseling, or Professional School Counseling) and have a minimum of two years of counseling experience in the concentration area in which the student is enrolled.
2. The site supervisor is expected to train the student regarding site policies, procedures, expectations, and daily activities; and to meet weekly with the student to discuss progress, participate in an evaluation of the student, and consult with the university supervisor about the student's progress.
3. Site supervisors are expected to communicate with program faculty for consultation and evaluation of counseling students. These communications will take place via synchronous web-browser based video technology, by phone, or in person.
4. Site supervisors also must attend a Site Supervisor Orientation and Supervisor Training workshop hosted by program faculty before providing supervision to counseling students in this program.
5. The university supervisor is expected to assist the student by providing weekly individual and group supervision with other students in similar field experiences, consulting with the site supervisor about the student's progress, assuring that all required field experience forms are submitted, attending all university meetings of supervisors, assuring that all students complete competencies and submit grades for the students at the end of the semester.

B. Internship

The Internship I student has one hour per week supervision with the site supervisor, one hour per week in faculty supervision, and two and one-half hours per week in group supervision (ENC691 class time). For Internship 2, students participate in peer supervision for one and 1/2 hours per week and discontinue weekly faculty supervision.

1. The Internship site supervisor is expected to train the counseling student regarding site policies, procedures, expectations, and daily activities; and its personnel policies; to meet once a week with the student to discuss progress, participate in a midterm and final evaluation of the student, and consult with the university supervisor about the student's progress.
2. The University Supervisor is expected to coordinate supervision for each student, conduct group supervision with students in similar field experiences, critique video counseling sessions for each student, consult with the site supervisor about the student's progress, assure that all required

Internship forms are submitted, attend all university meetings of supervisors, assure that students complete all Internship requirements, assess student counselor competencies, and submit grades for the students at the end of the semester.

VIII. PROCEDURES AND STEPS (SUMMARY)

Step 1 Meet with your Faculty Advisor to identify possible sites and the Faculty Advisor will enroll you in the Practicum/Internship Orientation on Sakai.

Step 2 After deciding on a site, send the Site Supervisor Agreement and letter for the site supervisor to the proposed site supervisor. The student ensures the SS Agreement and required documentation are returned by the deadline for each term. As soon as the SS Agreement is received, the site will be approved and the Counseling Coordinator will send the Cooperating Agency Agreement to the site supervisor for appropriate signatures. At the same time, the site supervisor will receive instructions for accessing and completing the Site Supervisor Orientation.

Step 3 Obtain professional malpractice insurance by joining ACA as a student member and then applying for the free malpractice insurance offered. It usually takes about one month to process an ACA insurance application.

Step 4 Visit the site to plan with the site supervisor prior to the first week of class. Remind the site supervisor of the required Site Supervisor Orientation.

Step 5 Become familiar with responsibilities and assist the site supervisor in understanding his/her responsibilities, as described in this Handbook and the Site Supervisor Agreement.

Step 6 If you have an emergency situation making it impossible to proceed with the Practicum or Internship, notify your Faculty Advisor immediately.

SUMMARY OF HOURS REQUIRED

Practicum - 40 direct hours: 10 of the 40 should be group counseling. 100 total clock hours

Internship - 240 direct hours: 60 of the direct hours should be group counseling. 650 total clock hours Direct Hours are exactly that: direct service to clients/students as in one-to-one counseling, group counseling, family counseling, group presentations addressing counseling topics (conflict resolution, self-esteem, communication, etc.).

Indirect Hours are all the activities one performs in connection with the specifics and protocols of the Practicum/ Internship site (e.g., charting, supervision, staff meetings, etc.).

Examples of Direct Hours

- Individual counseling
- Family counseling
- Couples counseling
- Group counseling
- Classroom guidance/presentations
- Psycho-educational program presentations
- Consultation: This must be a planned consult, with goals, outcomes, assessment. Informal chats with teachers, administrators are not consultations, and thus are indirect hours. Meetings with parents are consults. Meetings with other professionals (psychologists, social workers, community professionals) may be counted as direct hours so long as they are planned meetings with goals, agendas, etc.

- Assessment: group and individual test administration and interpretation. Students must be actively involved in test administration and not just observers.
- Snowballs, Snow-flurries, etc. may be counted as direct only when you are conducting counseling activities with students, e.g., small groups...simple chaperoning does not count.
- Trainer for professional development meetings (consultant).

Examples of Indirect Hours

- Case notes and other required paperwork
- Scheduling
- Informal contacts, meetings
- Training and professional development
- Research for classroom lessons, group plans
- Research for concerns that arise from counseling (i.e., looking up ADHD when working with a child diagnosed ADHD)
- Readings for class
- Preparation for Case Presentations and Video Recording review
- Chaperoning student activities

Travel to and from site does not count. Travel during working hours that is associated with site responsibilities is indirect. Studying for Comps cannot be counted for Practicum/Internship hours since Comps are a program requirement, not a class requirement.

Any questions about whether an activity counts as direct or indirect counseling hours should be directed to your Practicum/Internship Instructor.

Interning at Place of Employment - Students may earn clock hours in their current work setting only if they are engaging in activities clearly designated as Practicum/Internship and involve new learning, activities, and responsibilities that are consistent with a Counselor's role. In short, the Practicum/internship experience must be a new experience, not simply maintenance of what the student has been doing.

IX. PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL COUNSELOR STUDENTS ONLY (CACREP).

Since the Practicum is a generic skills program, that is, all ENC counseling students are expected to address and learn the same counseling skills, school counseling students do not specifically have to have a school site placement to earn the 40 supervised direct service hours and the 100 indirect hours (total of 150 hours).

During the school counselor's Internship, the student may earn up to 300 supervised direct service hours in a non-school placement provided the following conditions are met.

- A. The clients must be school age children;
- B. The non-school site must be related to the school site;
- C. The student must be supervised by a school counselor who meets the site supervisor standards.

X. SELECTED STATE OF ILLINOIS REQUIREMENTS FOR SCHOOL COUNSELOR STUDENTS

- D. At least 3 semester hours must be earned in a supervised counseling practice providing interaction with individuals and groups of an appropriate, school-aged population.
- E. The Practicum must include a minimum of 100 clock hours, 40 hours of which must involve direct service work with school-aged children
- F. At least 3 semester hours must be earned in a post-practicum Internship that provides an actual on-the-job experience in a school setting.
- G. The Internship must be a sustained, continuous, structured and supervised experience lasting for a substantial period of time in which the candidate engages in the performance of various aspects of the counseling role and is gradually introduced to the full range of responsibilities associated with that role. "Appropriate clientele" means school-aged children, parents, teachers and other parties interested in student's welfare.

XI. HINTS FOR SUCCESS. Each site placement is idiosyncratic, so not all of the ideas and information that follow will apply to each field experience.

- H. Dress appropriately and in accordance with existing dress codes within the site setting. Also, call the site if you will be delayed or absent. Be on time for meetings with clients and staff. You wish to be treated as a professional and need to act accordingly. Consider that dress and behavior reflect not only on the student but upon the university and future students.
- I. Select a site that is as similar as possible to the setting in which you eventually wish to work. The advantages are twofold: you will discover if you do want to work in such a setting and if so, you will make important career contacts.
- J. Select a site early to avoid last minute, unsatisfactory placement. This also reduces the risk of not meeting program approval.
- K. Go to your site at least a week before the placement officially commences. This allows time to become acquainted with your coworkers and the site's procedures. It also provides the opportunity to learn your way around and to select and/or arrange office space. In essence, arriving ahead of schedule will permit you extra time to attend to hundreds of details before you actually are faced with the awesome task of counseling clients/students.
- L. Take advantage of co-worker's expertise; you have built-in resources, and you must take the initiative in making the best use of your experience.
- M. Become involved in a variety of on-site activities; running groups, participating in in-service workshops and staff meetings, etc. These are all unique opportunities. Not only do you gain valuable experience, but you will have a chance to discover what you do and do not enjoy about a counseling position.
- N. The video recording of your counseling sessions is a primary means of assessing your progress; thus, your supervisor(s) must be able to see and hear your recording. Use of a microphone attachment will ensure adequate quality sound. See Guidelines for Privacy Compliance in the Student Handbook.

Clearly, the key to a successful Practicum/Internship is involvement with clients, staff, supervisors, and peers. You may get by with doing the minimum: cutting corners, avoiding risks, and not trying new behaviors. However, your experience will be exactly what you choose to make of it. What you put into the courses is what you will get back. You will never have another opportunity for such intensive supervision.

XII. PRACTICUM & INTERNSHIP SUPERVISORS

The following are some guidelines for practicing counselors who are supervising students enrolled in ENC 690, ENC 691, ENC 692.

Site supervisors spend at least one continuous hour a week in direct supervision with the student. During Practicum, the university supervisor will also be spending an hour a week with each student. As compensation for their time, leadership and skill, the University offers CEUs for the Practicum/Internship Site Supervisor Orientation.

There is a difference in emphasis between the Practicum and the Internship that will make some difference in the activities and the amount of time spent on certain activities depending on which class the student is taking. The Practicum stresses counseling skills. Individual and small group counseling activities should be the focus of the major part of the time the student spends on site. Other activities may be included in the student's experience; however the bulk of the time should be directed toward individual and group counseling.

The Internship focuses on the range of services provided by the counselor. It is appropriate for the student to be involved in the variety of services the counselor provides including consultation, coordination, etc.

XIII. SUGGESTIONS FOR SITE SUPERVISORS

- A. Provide the student counselor with an orientation to the agency or school, faculty and staff. Introduce the student and show her or him the ins and outs of the site. Explain any unique features of the site and the population it serves.
- B. For the first week or two let the student observe you as much as possible in counseling situations. Discuss with the student your personal orientation and any specific procedures that the student should be aware of working in your school or clinical mental health setting.
- C. When you believe that the student is ready, help her or him get started working directly with clients. One way to do this, and to check the student's readiness to work with your clients, is to begin by co-leading a group or two.
- D. When you believe that students are ready for more independence, we would like them to have the opportunity to work with individual clients and to lead groups as the primary counselor. The first individual and or group the student counselor works with should be "normal" with a developmental emphasis. As the student gains skills and confidence, more challenging situations may be appropriate.
- E. It would be helpful for you to provide feedback to the student as often as possible. We require at least two formal evaluation sessions with the student, one at midterm and the second at the end of the semester. This will enable the student to work on any specific weaknesses the two of you discover in your work together and will allow the student time to work with the university supervisor to improve skills as well.
- F. Please feel free to contact the university supervisor at any time if you have any questions or need clarification.
- G. The university supervisor will arrange site visits through the student counselor. Site visits will be conducted synchronously for online student sites. The university supervisor will visit the site once during the Practicum and once during the Internship. The university supervisor is available for site visits as needed to help the student and the site supervisor during the semester.
- H. Student counselors will be required to complete interview notes for each individual and group session at some sites. They will also be asked to maintain a log of their activities and the time they spend in each activity. They should also complete any forms or paperwork you require for the normal administration of duties performed by the student counselor.
- I. The student counselor is encouraged to join and participate in the state and national associations that promote counseling and the counseling profession. Students are required to have liability insurance before they begin to work independently in your site.
- J. Grades for the class are given by the instructor for the course. Your input is a major part of the consideration in the grading process. Please be sure to return your evaluation form at the end of the semester or contact the university supervisor for an oral report.

- K. Forms used during supervised experiences are available from the practicum/internship student or by contacting the university supervisor.
