So Many

So many cars go by,
So many,
Many cars go by.
Going?
Coming?
Do the cars know whether they are coming or going?
Do the drivers know?
These drivers who ask,
"Where have all the flowers gone?"
I know where all the flowers have gone.
They have gone to all the drivers who do not know

the color of their neighbor's house.
