Much has been written about my sister, Betty but nothing more succinctly and accurately descriptive than your op-ed of 2/11/06 “Friedan put the mirror to our faces” as printed in the Palm Springs Desert Sun. Given the realities of human nature, it is no great surprise that many of the more recent generations of women who are now able to walk through the doors that she opened take their relatively equal career opportunities for granted.

Unequal treatment of equals
Not your fight Is my fight – can’t she stay out
If not part of answer you’re part of problem
Sub-conscious propelling force
