► Why have I been dismissed?
► May I still take classes at Bradley?
► What are my alternatives?
► What if I want to return to Bradley?
► How do I apply for reinstatement?
► If I have questions, whom should I contact?

If I Have Questions, Whom Should I Contact?

Bradley University Academic Review Board Chairperson
(309) 677-2426

Your academic advisor
Why Have I Been Dismissed?

At the beginning of the semester your overall GPA was less than 2.00, and your overall is still below 2.00, and your semester GPA was below 2.25.

What Are My Alternatives?

1. You may petition the Bradley University Academic Review Board for reinstatement.

2. You may take courses at a community college. You’ll want to make good grades there to show you are making academic progress. (Grades from other schools do not affect your Bradley GPA.)

3. You may choose to attend another school to pursue a vocational/technical education.

4. You may seek employment.

5. If you are academically dismissed at the end of the spring semester, you may petition the Dean of your College for permission to enroll in summer courses in the first and/or second summer session at Bradley so long as an overall grade point average of 2.00 could reasonably be obtained as a result of this course work.

What if I Want to Return to Bradley?

If you are dismissed in the Fall, you may want to take classes (or one of the other alternatives) during the Spring semester, and petition to return to Bradley the following Fall.

If you are dismissed in the Spring, you may want to take classes elsewhere during the summer and petition to return to Bradley in the Fall.

You may petition for reinstatement at any time, even after being gone from Bradley for a few years.

The Academic Review Board usually meets during the following times:

- December — Study Day
- May — Study Day
- July
- August, right before classes begin

All materials (petition letter, student petition form, department review form) should be completed and received at least two weeks prior to the Academic Review Board meeting.

How Do I Apply for Reinstatement?

1. Complete the Petition for Reinstatement.

2. Type a letter to the Bradley University Academic Review Board stating why you had academic problems and why you feel you will be successful this time.

3. Mail the petition and the letter to the Bradley University Academic Review Board, 50 Markin Center.

4. Deliver a copy of your letter and the Departmental Review Form to your academic advisor. Be certain to do this early so that your advisor has sufficient time to complete the Departmental Review Form. Make sure you follow up with your advisor to be certain the form is completed and turned in.

You will not appear before the Bradley University Academic Review Board. Your letter is sufficient.

If you choose to seek reinstatement, careful consideration will be given to your petition, but REINSTatement IS NOT GUARANTEED.